

Self Build Anywhere in France!

We provide 'Self Build...with knobs on!

Or should that be handles?

Well, not us personally, you understand, but close associates!
We're all familiar with the concept - you'll have seen all the TV shows...

And, If you've ever thought "I could do that"... because you're a practical type: then you probably can!

"With a little help from your friends." And you can now choose any region of France as your goal!

We've all maybe learnt by our mistakes when it comes to DIY ... Well, we are here to make sure that there aren't any! - Reality Check! - Well, as few as possible anyway.

"But I don't know how to start"

Of course you do... You're a 'hands on' practical type otherwise you wouldn't be reading this.

You've been considering building your own house... maybe even abroad too or you just might live in France already.

In a land where the systems, customs, methods and maybe the language aren't always as familiar as you'd like them to be - we can help you to smooth out the hairpin bends and straighten out the lines of communication. Voila!

We're here to help get you started and to ensure a smooth finish too:-

You'll be needing some land... We can help you there!

You choose a design - that too - we can help with...
and, you're on your way...

Foundations laid. To suit the design you've chosen...

The steel frame is delivered. Did you ever have a Meccano Set? Are you any good with Lego..?

The frame goes up - You add the cladding.

"Insulation Man" Arrives - You can call him 'Cosy' and he makes sure you are too - top to bottom.

And, just in case you're wondering - we can help with the Quantity Survey too. What you'll need and when you need!

Placo-Plaque - It's easier than you think. The inside track takes the guess-work out of plaster boarding.

Electrics... No bare wires... You might almost call it Plug & Play... All supplied on looms. So, you don't have to be a 'Sparks' to handle this. It's all about wiring looms... prepared to conform with your design. You just spec it out for each room or for anything special that you need to include.

Self-Build Prices start at just 52,000 Euros

You Can build your own house!

Plumbing...

It's a push over! Or rather Push Fit! Either way it makes the best use of modern and easy-fit components and common sense; it's that easy!

Of course, we make it all sound simple and, some folks know more than others, and so need less help...But it's good to know that you have a friend in the trade. And that's where we come in...

There are some fixed priced elements included in the charges which we will make, but it will all be mapped out for you, and signed off before work or supply of goods and materials starts on your behalf; all fully understood. But there will also be other tasks which you may require our team to undertake...

Not a problem!

Our associates have been building in France for 30 years plus and so they know the ropes (hardware, software - land purchase, planning permissions - materials, supply & fix). The advantage here is their familiarity with the 'lie of the land' - the protocols, the building control, materials supplies... the fast track to each crucial stage of the building process. Speaking personally, whilst I've been glazed over, confused by an unfamiliar display of plumbing fittings in a French DIY store... these guys have bought it had it delivered and installed it and are on to the next big thing!

Sure we've all watched Grand Designs and many of the other spin-off shows that launched, each one with a slight twist and, they flick from one building stage to another showing the results front and centre and often too little of the 'off camera' work that joins one major element to another and that's, once again, where the experts come in...

So, allow us to introduce you to the company that can make your self build dreams a reality in France.
